Boston University's Center for Psychiatric Rehabilitation has been awarded a new 5-year grant from the National Institute on Disability and Rehabilitation Research (NIDILRR) on "Improving Employment Outcomes for People with Psychiatric Disabilities." This continued funding has allowed our center for further its mission, which has been supported by NIDILRR (and SAMHSA in the past) since our inception in 1979.

Second Edition of PhotoVoice Curriculum

We have released the second edition of Combating Prejudice and Discrimination Through PhotoVoice Empowerment by Cheryl Gagne, Alexandra Bowers, Philippe Bloch, Kathy Furlong-Norman, Sue McNamara, and Zlatka Russinova. This updated curriculum may be previewed and purchased at: <https://cpr.bu.edu/store/curricula-photovoice>.

New Fact Sheet: Returning to School as a Pathway to Employment

This Fact Sheet was developed based on information from a recent "Ask Me Anything about Employment: webinar hosted by Dori Hutchinson, Director of the Services Division at BU's Center for Psychiatric Rehabilitation.
