

Center for Psychiatric Rehabilitation

In this edition of the eCast

- Important Announcement from the Center for Psych Rehab
 - Yellow Tulip Community Hope Garden
 - Free Recovery Toolkit
 - PCORI dissemination project
 - Distance Learning information
 - Have you missed any of our Center's Resources?
 - Are you following us on our Social Media?
-

Important Announcement

Due to the increased spread of COVID-19 (coronavirus) in MA, Boston University has discontinued all in-person learning on campus. All staff at the Center for Psych Rehab are working remotely and are available by email. We also are monitoring the central phone line into the Center. If you have any questions, please contact Sally Rogers.

Yellow Tulip Community Hope Garden

The Yellow Tulip Community Hope Garden that we planted together this past fall is blooming! Enjoy the video of the 500 blossoming yellow tulip bulbs we planted. Our growing garden represents all that is critical right now in our lives - community, hope, and wellness. The project was hosted by the College Mental Health Programs at the Center for Psychiatric Rehabilitation (<https://cpr.bu.edu/living-well/college>) in partnership with the Yellow Tulip Project (<https://theyellowtulipproject.org/hope-gardens>) instilling hope, happiness, and community across the globe, and valued partners at Boston University like SARP.

Wishing you well during this difficult time.

Free Recovery Toolkit!

During this stay-at-home time, we would like to offer you our Recovery Toolkit for free during a limited time.

1. Sign up is between April 15 and June 15. No free registrations after June 15.
2. The free toolkit is available for use until September 15.
3. If you would like more training or technical assistance around implementing, contact Marianne Farkas.

4. For more information, go to: <http://cpr.bu.edu/develop/toolkit>

PCORI Dissemination Project

The Patient Centered Outcome Research Institute (PCORI) has supported several studies over the past few years examining the impact of peer services on the health needs of people with serious mental illness. Patrick Corrigan and his team at the Chicago Health Disparities Center, along with Martha Barbone at the National Association of Peer Supporters, were awarded a PCORI grant to summarize and disseminate a webinar on peer services. Briefly, the webinar summarizes the extent of health concerns experienced by people with serious mental illness, factors that exacerbate these concerns, and benefits of peer services to resolve them. The webinar also includes a review of research findings from PCORI projects in this area.

Distance Learning Info.

With the explosion of distance education options, learner-instructor interaction should still be considered as an important rule. To read more about best practices for online learning click here.

Have you missed any of our Center's resources?

- Ask Me Anything about Employment webinars have been archived.
 - Moving Along to Employment: 30-Second Training may be viewed.
 - Newsletters may be downloaded.
 - Fact Sheets may be downloaded.
 - Articles published by Center staff may be downloaded.
-

BOSTON UNIVERSITY
CENTER FOR PSYCHIATRIC REHABILITATION

Supporting people with mental health conditions
in living a meaningful life

Email: psyrehab@bu.edu
Website: cpr.bu.edu

Twitter: @psyrehab
Stay tuned & retweet

Instagram: @bu_cpr
Interact with latest updates

Facebook: FB.com/BUCPR
Become inspired

Are you following us on our Social Media?

Copyright © 2020 Boston University, Center for Psychiatric Rehabilitation, All rights reserved.

Our mailing address is:

Boston University, Center for Psychiatric Rehabilitation

940 Commonwealth Avenue West, 2nd floor, Boston, MA 02215

Want to change how you receive these emails?

You can update your preferences or unsubscribe from this list.