

In this edition of the eCast - March 2022

- Announcing the BLOG
- AMA Webinar Update
- Faculty and Staff Publications

The Center for Psychiatric Rehabilitation (CPR) has been publishing the eCast (this publication) for a number of years. We have done so as a means to shine a light on significant or emerging behavioral health and supported employment trends, promote related events and training opportunities, and bring together our worldwide audience of stakeholders.

In an effort to continue this mission and increase the timeliness of news, while affording an opportunity for the occasional deeper dive into topics of shared interest, CPR will begin publishing a blog on the CPR website at cpr.bu.edu/blog. This will allow our readers to access the content we release at their convenience and allow our staff to update the blog “on demand.” “On demand” announcements means that we will announce events in a timelier way, publications can be shared much closer to press date, and opportunities for action will be highlighted.

As we make this transition, we will continue to provide an email notification informing everyone of updates to the blog. When you visit the blog we hope you will explore the vast array of resources co-located on the website. We look forward to seeing you there!

Ask Me Anything...
Supported Employment and IPS
(Individual Placement and Support)

You’re invited to ask an expert about another interesting topic related to employment! This free event is not a presentation, but rather an interactive question & answer webinar. And YOU provide the questions.
